

Statement of participation

Kathryn Wiest

has passed the free course including all mandatory tests for:

Forensic psychology

This free 24-hour course introduced forensic psychology and eyewitness testimony.

Issue date: 3 June 2023

www.open.edu/openlearn

This statement does not imply the award of credit points nor the conferment of a University Qualification. This statement confirms that this free course and all mandatory tests were passed by the learner.

Please go to the course on OpenLearn for full details:

<https://www.open.edu/openlearn/health-sports-psychology/forensic-psychology/content-section-overview>

COURSE CODE: FP_1

Forensic psychology

<https://www.open.edu/openlearn/health-sports-psychology/forensic-psychology/content-section-overview>

Course summary

In this free course, Forensic psychology, you will discover how psychology can help obtain evidence from eyewitnesses in police investigations and prevent miscarriages of justice. This statement serves as proof of the successful completion of a course accredited by the CPD Standards Office. You have earned 24 CPD points through your participation in this course.

Learning outcomes

By completing this course, the learner should be able to:

- understand the psychology of eyewitness testimony
- develop skills in investigation
- explore human cognition and discover the mistakes brains can make
- discuss concepts of criminal investigation
- consider the relationship between limitations of the human brain and miscarriages of justice.

Completed study

The learner has completed the following:

Week 1

Introduction and guidance

Introduction to eyewitness psychology

Week 2

Initial statements

Week 3

Seeing and not seeing

Week 4

Interviewing witnesses

Compulsory badge quiz (score 92%)

Week 5

Making and recognising faces

Week 6

Visual identification

Week 7

Whodunnit?

Week 8

Conclusion

Compulsory badge quiz (score 91%)